

IOSH Managing Safely

The IOSH Managing Safely training program is aimed at helping managers and supervisors understand their day to day responsibilities when it comes to health and safety.

With its highly interactive format it will get participants formulating risk assessments, conducting accident investigations and engaging in influencing a company's health and safety culture.

This flexible course is ideal for getting your managers/supervisors up-to-speed on the skills they need to tackle day to day health and safety issues in the workplace.

A practical programme, full of step-by-step guidance, Managing Safely has a sharp business focus and is applicable to all businesses. The hands on, jargon-free format engages and inspires, and has helped a huge range of businesses to raise standards of health and safety within their work place.

This course is delivered over 3 days, 1 day per week.

Delegate assessment takes place via a written question paper taken on day 3 and an assessed project.

The managing safely certificate requires rectification every 3 years.

Company Benefits

Improving claims defensibility through attendees understanding;

- How to identify and control risk within their work environment.
- How to conduct a 'suitable and sufficient' risk assessment process.
- How to conduct a robust accident investigation to identify root causes to minimise reoccurrence.
- Theirs and the Company's legal and civil responsibilities to mitigate successful claims.
- Enhanced reputation within the supply chain.

Employee Benefits

- Greater productivity as fewer hours are lost due to sickness and accidents.
- Improved safety awareness culture and appreciation for safety measures.
- Active employee involvement to improve the workplace.
- Nationally recognised and respected certification for managers and supervisors.

